

HARVEST FOR HUNGER Work Site Campaign

What is Harvest for Hunger?

Harvest for Hunger is an annual food and funds drive that takes place every March in North Central Ohio. The campaign, one of the largest in the nation, raised the dollars and food needed to provide 10 million meals to individuals that are struggling to make ends meet in our community. The Second Harvest Food Bank of North Central Ohio organizes the campaign in partnership with three other food banks in the region.

Who does Harvest for Hunger help?

Over forty percent of those served by local hunger centers are children. Twelve percent of the hungry are elderly. Many who are in need are working poor families; our neighbors and coworkers.

How can we stretch $1 so far?

There are hundreds of local organizations that make food available to food banks across the region. These include everything from manufacturers to grocery store chains and many other types of organizations. Second Harvest also receives food from wholesalers, distributors, farms and individuals. All of this food is available to hunger relief organizations with the funds donated to Harvest for Hunger. Second Harvest purchases food at greatly reduced prices and passes that savings along to member agencies.

What can I do to help?

Get involved in your companies campaign by helping us raise food and funds to help your neighbors who are at risk for hunger today!

HARVEST FOR HUNGER Work Site Campaign

What is Harvest for Hunger?

Harvest for Hunger is an annual food and funds drive that takes place every March in North Central Ohio. The campaign, one of the largest in the nation, raised the dollars and food needed to provide 10 million meals to individuals that are struggling to make ends meet in our community. The Second Harvest Food Bank of North Central Ohio organizes the campaign in partnership with three other food banks in the region.

Who does Harvest for Hunger help?

Over forty percent of those served by local hunger centers are children. Twelve percent of the hungry are elderly. Many who are in need are working poor families; our neighbors and coworkers.

How can we stretch $1 so far?

There are hundreds of local organizations that make food available to food banks across the region. These include everything from manufacturers to grocery store chains and many other types of organizations. Second Harvest also receives food from wholesalers, distributors, farms and individuals. All of this food is available to hunger relief organizations with the funds donated to Harvest for Hunger. Second Harvest purchases food at greatly reduced prices and passes that savings along to member agencies.

What can I do to help?

Get involved in your companies campaign by helping us raise food and funds to help your neighbors who are at risk for hunger today!

HARVEST FOR HUNGER Work Site Campaign

What is Harvest for Hunger?

Harvest for Hunger is an annual food and funds drive that takes place every March in North Central Ohio. The campaign, one of the largest in the nation, raised the dollars and food needed to provide 10 million meals to individuals that are struggling to make ends meet in our community. The Second Harvest Food Bank of North Central Ohio organizes the campaign in partnership with three other food banks in the region.

Who does Harvest for Hunger help?

Over forty percent of those served by local hunger centers are children. Twelve percent of the hungry are elderly. Many who are in need are working poor families; our neighbors and coworkers.

How can we stretch $1 so far?

There are hundreds of local organizations that make food available to food banks across the region. These include everything from manufacturers to grocery store chains and many other types of organizations. Second Harvest also receives food from wholesalers, distributors, farms and individuals. All of this food is available to hunger relief organizations with the funds donated to Harvest for Hunger. Second Harvest purchases food at greatly reduced prices and passes that savings along to member agencies.

What can I do to help?

Get involved in your companies campaign by helping us raise food and funds to help your neighbors who are at risk for hunger today!